John L Hansen is a Certified Public Accountant with more than 30 years of experience. He has been appointed as an expert on hundreds of occasions.

John has testified as an expert on damages and economic issues in trial and arbitration, state courts, federal courts and before the International Trade Commission. He has presented declarations and deposition testimony before the Patent Trial and Appeal Board and participated in settlement negotiations and mediations for disputed values in excess of over $250 million.

John is an experienced consultant, supporting companies on economic, accounting and damages matters in a wide variety of industries from entertainment and sports to technology, construction, and finance. He has analysed and addressed lost profits, price erosion, reasonable royalties, unjust enrichment, increased costs, and diminution of asset and business value. John's experience spans intellectual property, commercial damages, class action, forensic accounting, and valuation matters.

John specialises in evaluation of the financial impact of alleged intellectual property infringement and misappropriation including patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets. He has assisted clients with Section 337 investigations before the United States International Trade Commission, addressing domestic industry and remedy issues. He has also consulted on the valuation and licensing of intellectual property.

John is a Certified Licensing Professional, a Chartered Global Management Accountant, and is Certified in Financial Forensics by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA). He has presented on financial, accounting and damages issues, along with
